

was highlighted that some back office functions, that currently had civilians in post, may be replaced by police officers in order to add greater value, including the power of arrest. The Panel requested a report back to a future meeting on the impact of this move.

- that the Panel was pleased to receive assurance that all of the proposals included in Operation Franklin were premised on protecting services to the public.
 - the
-